

We make boxes to live in, and put our things in boxes. We stack these boxes on one another and call them 'apartments'. These can have smaller transparent boxes to connect inside to outside. These 'boxes' may contain but are not limited to; soft boxes for sleeping on, boxes half full of food, boxes made of layers of paper, long thin boxes to divide or unite adjacent boxes, boxes that contain moving images of other places, boxes to put each other in to then go in an earth box.

We make light boxes to emulate sunlight and dark boxes for sleeping. We make boxes of water so we can each swim and boxes of green to relax and grow things in.

We create boxes around areas of land. Depending on where you first breath the air will decide which box you belong to.

We tick boxes, the male box, the female box (see also English slang 'Box' meaning vagina), the employed box, the unemployed box, the under 35 over 35 box, the married box the unmarried box, the has kids box, the has no kids box, the data usage acceptance box, the receive the newsletter for 10% off your next purchase box.
